Summer Camp Scholarships

There is no better way to help children appreciate the natural environment than Yampatika camp! Camps reach children between the ages of 5 and 14. They include an overnight camping or backpacking trip for children ages 9 and up and give children the perfect opportunity to explore, inquire and learn about their surroundings in a fun and safe environment. Past camp themes have included "Fun in the Sun," "Recycling and Beyond," and "Winged Wonders."

Wild Edible Feast

Yampatika will host its 12th annual Wild Edible Feast on June 1st, 2011 at Sweetwater Grill. Guests enjoy a gourmet dinner of native wild edible plants and other local fare, a silent auction and a live auction. All proceeds from this event support Yampatika's Environmental Literacy Program!

Adult Field Schools

Adult Field Schools offer diverse outings focused on our local environment. They include "Hunting the Wild Mushroom," "Wild Horses of the San d Wash Basin" and wildflower walks!

Yampatika's launches the state's FIRST Environmental Literacy Plan!

In the 2010-2011 school year, Yampatika launched an environmental literacy pilot program at grades K-5 in The Steamboat Springs School District. The plan aligns with the federal "No Child Left Inside" act which will integrate environmental literacy into education curriculum.

"Steamboat Springs is a model for environmental education in the state. We just know you're going to be able to teach the rest of us how to make this happen. We need your leadership on this. Steamboat is ahead of the curve."

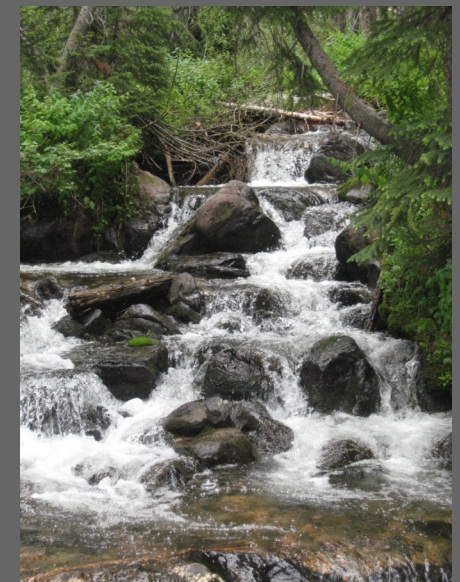

- Former Colorado Lieutenant Governor
Barbara O'Brien

The State Historical Fund supports our Environmental Learning Center!

We received a grant to create an interpretive program at the Legacy Ranch. The program includes interpretive displays, a self-guided walking tour, guided historic visits and public open houses. Look for the interpretive exhibits this fall!

About Yampatika

What is Yampatika?

Yampatika is a non-profit organization whose mission is to inspire environmental stewardship through education. It is the only organization in the Yampa Valley's that provides environmental education programs for people ranging in age from to preschool to senior citizens!

In 2009, Yampatika opened the Yampa Valley's first Environmental Learning Center at the City-owned Legacy Ranch. It is quickly becoming a community destination where youth and adults can observe migratory birds in spring; snowshoe through the open meadow in winter; and participate in organic gardening and water harvesting in summer.
